Why the lights went out on the Bay bridge

By BRENT MACEY

A project costing more than $250,000 is replacing all lights and electrical wiring on the US-90 Bay St. Louis bridge.

All the bridge's 83 lights, except one emergency light, have been shut off for several weeks because of the project.

The bridge project, one of several bridge renovations undertaken by the Mississippi Highway Department on the Gulf Coast, is expected to upgrade the bridge and eliminate problems which have caused bridge electrical failures in the past.

Included in the work will be replacement of all bridge wiring, electrical equipment and light fixtures.

All lights on the Bay St. Louis bridge, the first phase of the project, are expected to be back in operation within two months.

A section of lights on the northwest portion of the bridge should be operating within two or three weeks, an electrician of JAD Electrical Contractors of Pascagoula said Friday.

The company is sub-contracted by the Mississippi Highway Department to perform electrical work.

The electrician said all the old wiring an conduit has been removed from the bridge and new conduit has been installed.

Workmen are currently replacing all the lightbulbs and fixtures, the electrician said.

Tom Sanders, vice president of JAD, Friday said the old mercury-vapor lights and fixtures are being replaced with high-pressure sodium-vapor lights.

Sanders said the high-pressure sodium lights are cheaper to operate and also are slightly brighter than the old lights.

Sanders confirmed reports by Rick Turner, resident engineer of the highway department, that JAD Contractors was sent the wrong type of wiring needed for the bridge.

That problem, however, has not delayed work on the bridge since electricians have continued working on other portions of their electrical contract, he said.

The mix-up has delayed restoring lighting on the bridge for a few days, Sanders said.

However, the correct wiring is expected to be received sometime next week and work will begin immediately to restore lighting, he reported.

Sanders stated some 20 miles of wiring will be needed to completely restore the wiring in the two-mile Bay bridge.

Included in the restoration work is the replacement of a control panel, transformers, and traffic control gates and lights.

Another electrical system will also be added to the bridge so that two primary systems and a back-up system will be available to operate the draw-bridge system.

Prior failures draw bridge should be eliminated with the back-up systems, Sanders said.

He speculated some structural work will also be undertaken by Kendall Construction Co. of Pascagoula.

Sanders noted JAD sub-contracted a portion of the project from Kendall Construction. JAD is only involved in the electrical work on the bridge.

Kendall representatives or Turner could not be reached Friday to determine what other work will be required.

While the lighting work should be completed within two months, Sanders said the entire project should be completed by June.

Currently, the only light operating on the bridge is an emergency light located directly across from the bridge tender's office.

Six qualify for Dec. 7 circuit clerk election

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The Hancock County Election Commission Friday night certified six candidates seeking the vacant office of Hancock County circuit clerk, Charles Gottschalk, commission chairman said Saturday.

The special election to be on Dec. 7 was required due to the resignation of former Circuit Clerk Henry Otis who pled guilty to the misdemeanor offense of failing to keep appropriate records at the office.

Candidates qualifying for the election include, Robert J. (Bobby) Boudin of Bay St. Louis, Billy Ray Dedeaux of the Dedeaux Community, Jerry D. Heitzmann of Bay St. Louis, Francis L. (Frank) Lee of the Leetown Community, James L. (Jim) Odom of Bay St. Louis, and Gloria C. Tartavouille of Waveland.

A special run-off election will be held on Dec. 21 if no candidate receives a majority vote, Gottschalk said.

NSTL deputy manager named association employee of the year

Roy Estess, deputy manager of the National Space Technology Laboratories, has been selected as the Federal Employee of the Year by the Mississippi Coast Association of Federal Administrators.

The selection was recently at MCAFA's annual awards dinner and fourth quarterly meeting held in Biloxi. MCAFA is comprised of the heads of all federal agencies located in Hancock, Harrison and Jackson counties.

Estess, a resident of Piquette, came to NSTL in February 1968. During the Saturn V acceptance test program, he was a key member of the S-II static firing test team and subsequently directed the advanced planning effort for Space Shuttle testing at the Hancock County installation.

During the 1970s he was assigned as special assistant to the NSTL manager in developing new activities to assure the efficient utilization of the installation.

From 1977 to 1980, Estess managed satellite remote sensing research and transfer activities in NSTL's Earth Resources Laboratory. He was appointed NSTL deputy manager in August 1980.

Estess received a bachelor of aerospace engineering degree in 1960 from Mississippi State University and has additional training in propulsion, management and environmental science.

He is a registered professional engineer and a member of several professional organizations, including Sigma Gamma Tau, a national aerospace society. He is currently a member of the Engineering Advisory Committee to Mississippi State University and a member of the Mississippi Academy of Sciences.

Estess is involved in a number of civic and church activities. For the past 12 years he was a scoutmaster and is currently serving on the Executive Council of the Pine Burr Council of Boy Scouts, as well as scouting committee chairman at his church. In 1974 he was named citizen of the year in Piquette.

Estess and his wife, Zann, are both natives of Tylertown. They have a son, Stephen, and a daughter, Mauri, both engineering students at Mississippi State University.

Federal boards such as MCAFA, which were established by presidential memorandum, have as their purpose fostering communication and coordination between agencies, improving liaison with other governmental units and providing better access and service to the public.

Engineer's inspector says:

Bay's Main Street work to be finished in April

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Donna Murray, resident inspector of Broadway and Seal Engineers of Piquette for the Main Street renovation project in Bay St. Louis said Friday the work should be completed by April 1.

Murray said, "Southland Construction of Ocean Springs began removing sidewalks on Tuesday."

"Monies for the project have been allocated including a change order. This was necessary when it was discovered more sub-surface drainage had to be replaced. Also, more asphalt and base material was needed for the roadway after replacement of water and gas lines by city crews," Murray stated.

The original contract by Southland was for $125,000 with an additional $15,000 change order. The City of Bay St. Louis will pay 20 percent of the costs with the 80 percent coming from federal funds, Murray said.

Broadway and Seal are the engineers supervising the project.

Murray said the procedure to be followed by the contractor after the removal of the sidewalks will include laying sub-surface drain pipes and constructing drainage catch basins; pouring concrete curbs and gutters; repairing the sub-base of the road; asphalt surface course, (the surface of the street); landscaping which will include planting of grass on neutral grounds and possibly a few shrubs; and finally traffic striping.

Murray indicated the city crews have about completed the task of replacing the gas and water lines.

They will be working with the contractor during the project repairing a few leaks if they are found, the inspector said.

Murray reported, "The contract calls for the city crews to assist during construction by furnishing a truck and driver to haul debris."

"We have been assured by the contractor that he will complete the work within the allowed time. He will try his best to keep the street open, or partially open at all times," Murray allowed.

"Southland will try to coordinate his work so not to cause serious inconveniences during the Christmas holiday shopping at nearby stores. The work will involve some problems, but this is always necessary on this type of construction."

In recent months South Central Bell and Mississippi Power Co. have also been relocating utility poles for planned street widening, also included in the project.

Murray requested, "Any persons with inquiries regarding the Main Street project are asked to please call Broadway and Seal Engineers at 467-6616."

He added, "The City of Bay St. Louis will have a beautiful Main Street when completed."

Breaux re-elected Chamber president

Louis J. Breaux of the Sellers Community was elected to a second term as president of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce for 1983 at the organization's Board of Directors' recent November meeting.

Serving with Breaux this year will be Pat Harvill of Waveland as vice president, and Sherlyn Breland of Bay St. Louis, as treasurer.

Breaux has served on the Chamber board for seven years and has held the office of vice president and chairman of the by-laws committee in the past.

He has served as president of the Hancock County Farm Bureau for 16 years and the Hancock County Fair and Livestock Association for two years; 1982 Hancock United Way fund raising campaign chairman; and is one of the founders and chairman of the Necaise Crossing Gumbo Festival. He currently serves as president of the festival.

Breaux is a past member of the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission and has represented Hancock County for six years on the Pearl River Basin and Development District.

He served on the Mississippi State Farm Bureau Board for 12 years and is currently vice president of the Farm Bureau Southern District which serves 32 counties.

Breaux is owner of Breaux's Services, Inc. of Kiln.

Serving as directors on the Chamber board this coming year will be Joseph Mont, Dick Thomas, Maurice Colly, David Treutel, and Bill Whitfield, all of Bay St. Louis, and Charles Johnson, Jr. of Waveland.

Newly elected directors who will serve a three-year term include Ellis Cuevas and Dick Kosbab, both of Bay St. Louis; Edwin R. Ling Sr. of Waveland; and John C. Mason and John Scaffie, both of Bay St. Louis.

Those elected to serve a one-year term are Dr. Thomas Murphree Jr. of Waveland and Mary M. Perkins of Bay St. Louis.

"I am pleased that the board of directors have elected me to serve another term as president and feel that the Chamber will continue to move forward this year," Breaux states.

Trooper nabs Ga. fugitive in Hancock

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

A Georgia fugitive is in Hancock County Jail in Bay St. Louis pending extradition.

The jail docket lists Arthur Herrick, 31, of Suffolk, Va. in jail pending extradition to Georgia.

A Hancock County Sheriff's Department spokesman Saturday morning said Herrick is wanted by the Tift County Sheriff's Department in Tifton, Ga. in the theft of a 1971 Ford pickup truck from that area.

Trooper Mike Cox of the State Highway Patrol apprehended Herrick Saturday morning for allegedly hitchhiking on I-10 in Hancock, the spokesman reported.

A National Crime Information Network report confirmed that Herrick is wanted in Georgia, the spokesman said.

County jobless rate declines

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Hancock County's unemployment rate dropped in October based on a recently released Mississippi Employment Service report.

The report shows Hancock with a 9.8 percent jobless rate for the month which is a six-tenths of a percentage point drop compared to September figure.

Hancock's unemployment rate is lower than the statewide average of 12.2 percent and national figure of 9.9 percent for the same period.

But the county figures show the civilian labor force of 9,330 for October represents a decrease of 80 from the previous month.

The report lists 900 Hancock residents out of work.

Mississippi's unemployment rate in October is the same figure reported for Library story hour featuring farm tales

The Hancock County Library System provides a story hour every Thursday at 10:30 a.m. at the Bay St. Louis Library.

Pre-school children from three to six years old are invited to attend, says Becky Mitchum, children's librarian.

This week the program is about farms.

Story hour will begin with the song, 'Old MacDonald had a Farm.' 'The Chick and the Duckling' by Mirra Ginsburg is the first book to be read.

Between stories the children will be shown pictures of farm animals—as they guess—the sounds the animals make.

The second book read will be 'The Rain Puddle' by Adelaide Hall.

Story hour will conclude with the motion picture film, 'The Peasant's Pea Patch.'

Loving Memories of my husband.

Your gentle face and patient smile with sadness we recall.

You had a kindly word for each and died beloved by all.

The voice is mute, and still the heart that love us well and true.

Oh, bitter was the trial to part from one so good as you.

You are not forgotten, Daddy nor will you ever be.

As long as life and memory last we will remember thee.

We miss you now, our hearts are sore, as time goes by we miss you more.

Coast Electric manager to offer China report

By JOE PILET

A fast-moving and interesting program is planned for the Thursday, Dec. 2 meeting of Friends of the Library.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. with a traditional Christmas theme presented by Darlene Underwood, Hancock County's extension home economist.

Underwood is sponsored by Ellis Cuevas, publisher of The Sea Coast Echo.

She holds a master of science degree in home economics from the University of Southern Mississippi and her timely message is expected to give useful suggestions for holiday celebration.

Dr. M.J. Wolfe Sr., deeply respected for his many years of services to the Gulf Coast community, will present certificates of appreciation to three persons recently selected by Friends of the Library as volunteers who have given of both time and talents toward promoting the organization.

Recognition goes to Mrs. William Hilliker, Miss Martha Van Peski, and Joe Wusnack.

A highlight on the program is an address to be given by Henry Thomas, manager of Coast Electric Power Association in Bay St. Louis.

Thomas recently returned from an investigative trip to China's mainland and will give the group brief comments on some of his outstanding observations while a guest in the ancient and highly populated Asian country.

Thomas, a speaker of ability and humor, observed great contrasts in the East-West lifestyle and will note that nation's need for road improvements and modern appliances.

The meeting is open to all interested persons. Admission is free and students are welcome.

Following the program guests and members will assemble in the Crawford Memorial Room where refreshments will be served.

Insurance Council offering rewards for arrest tips

The Mississippi Insurance Council is offering rewards of up to $1,000 for information which leads to the arrest of an arsonist.

"Persons who have information about a fire that may have been deliberately set should call their local law enforcement authority or the state's arson hot line, 354-6304," says Charles Bobo, chairman of the Insurance Information Institute's Mississippi Committee.

"Calls to the hot line are confidential and can be made collect from outside the Jackson area during normal business hours," he notes.

The number of arson cases handled by the Mississippi fire marshal's office in 1981 totaled 430, up more than 10 percent from 1980, Bobo reports. That amount does not include arson fires handled by city fire and police departments. Jackson alone had 117 arson fires last year, he says.

Waveland Players' mad-cap melodrama starting Friday

By popular demand, the Waveland Players are presenting another mad-cap melodrama with lots of music for their faithful and appreciative audiences.

On Friday and Saturday, Dec. 3 and 4 at 8 p.m., and again the following weekend at the same hour, as well as Sunday, Dec. 12 at 3 p.m., 'Young Dracula' or the Singing Bat, by Tim Kelly, is sure to delight area theatre-goers.

At $3 a ticket, available only at the door of the Waveland Civic Center, it's a bargain full of rich entertainment.

Walter Vaughn, who thrilled audiences as the villainous Black 'n Red in 'Deadwood Dick,' swings and swirls his black cape in the role of (who else?) Dracula himself. And he milks the role for all it's worth.

You loved his song 'There was blood on the saddle; drip, drip, drip?' Wait until you see and hear his original song in 'Young Dracula'!

'Young Dracula' begins as a four group gets lost in the Carpathian Mountains of Europe at Dracula's castle, and mysterious events unfold in rapid order.

Susan Smith Stevens appears in the role of the tour guide, with Ed Scanlan Jr., Janet Alme, Jeanie and Bob Zeigler, John Helmers, and Judith Gray as her hapless tourists. Are they victims or victors? I'll never tell!

Frank Gray handles the role of Bill, Dracula's descendant, with amiable authority.

Hansel Baxter, in a striking departure from past roles, is Moana, the stern housekeeper of the castle. And she is severely convincing.

Glenda Dean plays a Gypsy girl from the village, who can't tell the difference between her V's and her W's now! Her scene with Dracula will have you screaming!

The role of heel-clicking Germanic Frau Wienerschnitzel is ably performed by the talented Jeanne-Marie Bell.

The cast also includes a Werewolf, played howlingly well by Russell Fitch.

No castle staff would be complete without its maids! Singing their way through 'Young Dracula' are Margo Frommeyer, Elizabeth Hart, Barbara Pursley, and Alla Mae Lambert.

Piccola Dietrich and Danny Guilliams appear as other Gypsy villagers.

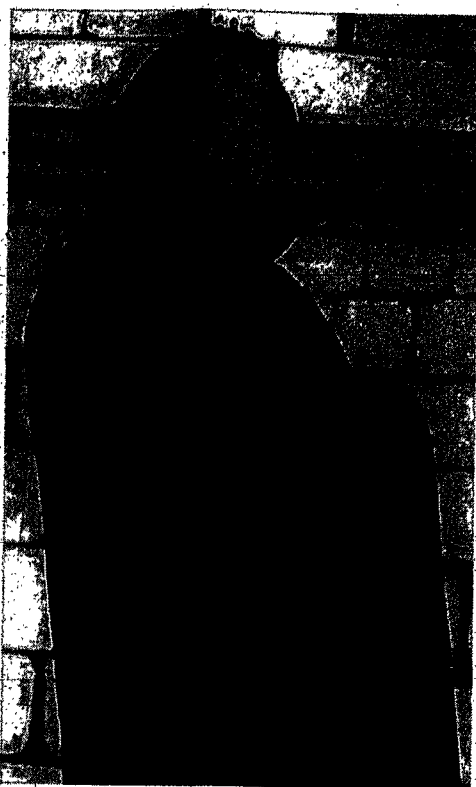

Piccola has choreographed 'Young Dracula' as well, and her talented gypsy dancers include Frances Mitterer, Barbara Jo Fitch, 'Little Piccola' Dietrich, Niccola Dietrich, Nina Simpson, Michelle Dietrich, Judy Johnson, Jon Tohler, Caroline Adam, and Piccola herself.

Directed by Ted Stechmann, who is most able at his craft, and produced by the tireless Terry Simpson (who also handles the sound effects), 'Young Dracula' is fortunate to have a dedicated technical staff. They include Art Director, Ed Scanlan Jr.; Lighting, Pam Baumgartner; Spotlight, Derek Stechmann; Choreography, Piccola Dietrich; Accompanist, Ingrid Ling; Costumes, Ed Scanlan Jr.; Makeup, Nan Bradley and Ed Scanlan Jr.

Posters, Jeanie Zeigler; Programs, Jeanie Zeigler; Meta Garside and Ed Ling; Publicity, Edith Bierhorst Back; Meta Garside and Jeanne-Marie Bell; Tickets, Norma Simpson; and Concessions, Bubby Dietrich.

The audience will be seated at the ever-popular long tables, from which there isn't a bad seat in the house!

Remember these dates: Friday and Saturday, Dec. 3, 4, 10, and 11 at 8 p.m. and Sunday, Dec. 12 at 3 p.m. Tickets remain at $3, available only at the door.

Bits 'n pieces

In recent months it has been very dark across the Bay of St. Louis bridge.

More than $250,000 is being spent by the Mississippi Highway Department for the replacement of all the wiring and lights.

Information received Friday indicates all of the lights should be back in working order within two months.

We have been advised that some mixup had occurred in the shipment of some of the wiring which has caused some delay in replacement.

One item of good news for motorists will be the installation of a back-up system for the operation of the draw-bridge. Persons being caught on the bridge when mechanical failure happens should really appreciate the new system. We understand the entire project should be completed by June.

The bridge which was completed in the mid-50's has had its' share of light problems. Many of us remember the one and only light pole remaining on the bridge after Hurricane Camille roared through in 1969.

We will be happy to see the new lights working, and hope it will be very soon.

There sure have been many elections held in Hancock County this year, and probably more than any other county in the state.

The election to be on Dec. 7 for circuit clerk will be the eighth of the year for the county and we have a strong feeling there will be a run-off on Dec. 21 making election number nine for the year in Hancock County.

We know many will forget to go and vote on Dec. 7, but are in hopes there will be a large turnout.

While on the subject of the special election, there will be a political forum sponsored by the Hancock County Republican Executive Committee Monday at 7 p.m. at the Courthouse in Bay St. Louis.

It is our understanding a series of eight questions have been submitted to each of the six candidates to be answered at the forum.

We are hoping many persons will attend this forum which is open to the public to become more aware of the candidates and their qualifications.

Congratulations are in order for L.J. Breaux upon his re-election as president of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce.

We feel the chamber has taken some large strides during the past year and will continue in the coming year with the support of the people of Hancock County.

We also want to congratulate Pat Harvill on being elected as vice-president and Sheryln Breland, treasurer.

We know both of these ladies will do a fine job for the chamber.

As a reminder, the annual banquet will be at Diamondhead's Country Club on Dec. 10 and reservations are now being taken.

We know the year 1984 seems a long way from now, but with 1982 fast fading it will not be too long before the Worlds Fair will be happening in New Orleans.

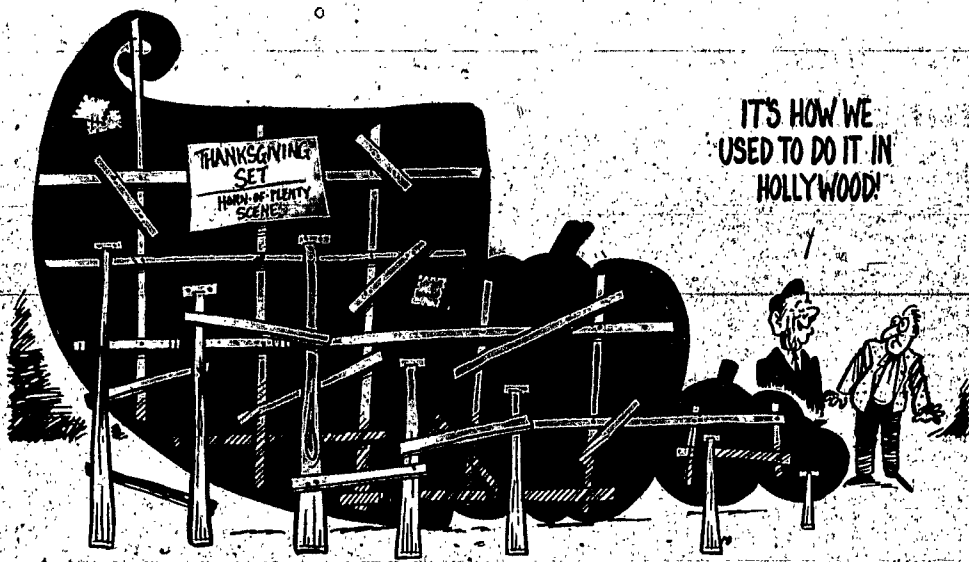

The Hancock Chamber of Commerce's Louisiana World Fair Council Steering Committee will meet Thursday at 7 p.m. in the Waveland Library on Coleman Avenue.

Persons interested in serving on the steering committee can call the chamber office.

The special guest Thursday will be Tish Haas with the Mississippi Tourism Division.

Haas is a native of Bay St. Louis, so we are very lucky to have someone in her position in the state.

We hope interested persons will try and attend this informative gathering.

IT'S HOW WE USED TO DO IT IN HOLLYWOOD!

NEWS FROM THE GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

SPECIAL SESSION

Gov. William Winter has called a special session of the Legislature for Dec. 6 to consider sweeping reforms in Mississippi's system of education.

The governor will present a comprehensive package of education legislation to state lawmakers. A special session will permit legislators to focus their attention fully on the state's education needs.

Winter's determination to call a special session was reinforced by voter ratification of a constitutional amendment to create a lay board of education.

The governor believes the nine-member lay board will provide more effective oversight and leadership than the current board which is hamstrung with too many statutory restrictions.

Winter has noted many times that economic progress for the state is closely linked to significant upgrading of the state's educational system.

The governor's comprehensive proposals include:

- Administrative reorganization of the department of education;
- Strengthening teacher certification requirements to insure the effectiveness and competence of those entering the teaching profession;
- Toughening school accreditation standards;
- Curriculum improvements;
- Teacher pay raises of 10 percent;
- Compulsory school attendance;
- Early childhood education to be financed by a grant-in-aid program for kindergartens and reading aides for the first three grades.

The People's Business

PROVIDING JOB SKILLS FOR JOBS

If Mississippi is to provide more jobs for its residents, then it must see that quality training programs are in place so that the emerging work force will have the skills the job market requires. Aware of this, the Mississippi Economic Council earlier this year assigned a special committee to survey the state's vocational-technical training programs and those of neighboring states.

The four-state survey is attempting to determine which kinds of vocational-technical training programs are the most successful, and which ones are not. In addition to Mississippi, states surveyed include Alabama, Tennessee, and North Carolina.

The special report, which is being considered by the MEC's Board of Directors, found that while some states place more emphasis on providing training for adults, Mississippi concentrates its training in high schools. The study also found that Mississippi provides less training in highly technical job areas compared to other states.

When completed, MEC hopes that its study will help education leaders determine ways to improve Mississippi's vocational-technical training programs. And in doing so provide the state's young adults with the skills required in the marketplace.

ECONOMICS AND DRAGONS

Every family knows that building that dream house can be a nightmare experience without careful planning. It's beneficial to know as much as possible about what you might want in a home and other living conditions. That's because there's always a lot of money and happiness at stake.

This is true for dragons as well as people. Elementary school students will now have the opportunity to learn about concepts such as financial planning, meeting financial needs, and related topics by reading "Dragons Decide," a new coloring book recently developed by the American Enterprise Center, the educational arm of the Mississippi Economic Council.

In this unique coloring book, first and second graders can learn about how the real economic world works. Through the home building plans of Dilroy and Diane, two friendly dragons, students can read about the things that matter most in any family's financial world.

The coloring book is part of an overall program developed by the AEC to help educators prepare students for real world economics. And in doing so, these students will one day be better prepared to meet the everyday challenges of fulfilling financial needs and strengthening the American free enterprise system.

Underpaid Mississippians foot the bill industrial development ted little from the warm spot is supposedly enjoys in entrepreneurial hearts.

EDITORS NOTE: The following article resulted from a grant made by the Mississippi Committee for the Humanities to the Mississippi Press Association. The opinions expressed are those of the author and not of the Mississippi Committee for the Humanities, nor of the Mississippi Press Association.

Mississippians face a dilemma in trying to maintain a favorable business climate and simultaneously raising the quality of life in the state. Traditionally, the tilt toward the business world has been directly at the expense of many low income Mississippians.

According to a recent publication of the Mississippi Department of Economic Development, Mississippi enjoys one of the nation's better business climates.

The high score in the business index was based on an independent study by the Conference of State Manufacturers Association which considered tax rates, state spending per capita, workmen's compensation rates, wage levels, and labor union membership.

Given the Magnolia state's pioneering role in state-sponsored industrial subsidization through the BAWI program, a high ranking is to be expected.

Yet Mississippi has benefit-

The poverty rate is approximately 230 percent of the national average and 170 percent of the southern average. Mississippi has the highest illiteracy rate in the nation and consistently ranks low in major surveys of the quality of life.

The cause of this inconsistency is important, for conventional wisdom dictates that a favorable business climate creates high quality of life. Yet in Mississippi it doesn't.

From the standpoint of basic costs and convenience, Mississippi is an almost ideal location for a new plant and the result has been that the state's growth in nonagricultural employment during the 1970s was well ahead of the national average and the regional average.

Yet, the absolute dollar gap between the average weekly earnings of Mississippians and the average American worker more than doubled in the same decade.

Such statistics may seem startling, but they shouldn't. Low wages are vital to Mississippi's business climate, as are low property and income taxes.

The state's historic willingness to embrace, even subsidize, low paying employers has resulted in firms whose appraisals must not be upset by demands for higher wages or increased taxation.

The major attempt to purge Mississippi's economic development program of its self-sacrificial tendencies has been a well publicized effort to recruit better paying, "high-tech" industries.

But here the problem is twofold. Why should such firms locate in an economically and educationally backward state? The present vote-tech program would have to be revamped to accommodate the necessary training.

Would these firms really make that much difference? Such operations often hire relatively few workers and they would provide little in the way of a solution to the problem of the state's surplus of cheap, willing, but undertrained work force.

Mississippi's best prospects for industrial expansion still lie with labor-intensive industries that employ large numbers of unskilled workers at relatively low wages.

However, if the state is to break free from the "drag effect" of a cheap labor economy, individual income must increase. High wages would also enhance Mississippi's appeal to firms searching for lucrative consumer markets.

Population growth is another important attraction to market-oriented industries. Mississippi's efforts to recruit new residents suffer from the state's image of backwardness in such areas as public education.

But the paradox continues: educational improvements require raising taxes but low taxes are vital to the favorable business climate.

The "business climate vs. living climate" conflict surfaces again during the debate about increasing the severance tax on oil and gas in order to provide more revenue for public education.

Mississippi uses only 60 percent of its corporate income tax potential and less than 50 percent of its capacity for individual income taxes. Yet the sales tax, which falls heavily on low income consumers, is at 165 percent of capacity.

The maintenance of the favorable business climate continues to undermine the very economic progress that it is designed to help.

Long-term prospects for meaningful economic progress in Mississippi depend on the willingness of political leaders to commit themselves to making the state a more attractive place to live—even at the risk of upsetting a few of those who already know it's a great place to make a buck.

Responsible drinking urged for the holidays

The period from Thanksgiving to New Year's Day is being commemorated as "Save the Holidays Month."

"It is difficult to visualize more-than-usual drinking, in an area like ours," said Dr. E. W. Bashful of the Greater New Orleans Committee on Alcoholism and Drug Abuse.

"But with the coming Holiday Season, there will be more parties, more family get-togethers, more general merriment, all accompanied by increased drinking."

"And we have nothing against drinking," continued Bashful. "We are concerned, however, about abusive and pathological drinking."

Realizing the potential for accidents, crippling injuries, death, and unhappy home situations, emanating from irresponsible drinking and alcoholism, the Committee makes the following suggestions to those hosting a party this Holiday Season:

—Have non alcoholic drinks available for those who cannot or who do not wish to drink;

—Have food or snacks available, to help slow down the absorption of the alcohol which will be consumed;

—If you mix drinks for your guests, make them "normal" and "moderate," not "doubles" and "triples"; better yet, let your guests make their own;

—Don't push drinks on anyone; you never know, someone might be an alcoholic and the one drink could ruin the holidays, or the person might be on medication, which mixed with alcohol could have tragic results, or the person could have ulcers;

—Make the "last one for the road" coffee;

—Be a true friend; don't let one of your guests drive home drunk.

For drinkers, this Holiday Season, the Committee suggests:

—Eat something before you drink; that will slow down the absorption of the alcohol, and make you a safer drinker, while preventing quick intoxication;

—Know your limits, and stay within them;

—Remember that coffee, a cold shower, or walking does not sober a person; only time can, and since one-ounce of alcohol (a cocktail, a 12 oz. bottle of beer) can be eliminated in one hour, the actual time of oxidation can be determined;

—Wait sufficient time following drinking before doing anything which requires skill;

—If you drink, let someone else drive, or take a cab; better yet, if you drive, don't drink;

—Drinking moderately helps you enjoy the Holidays; excessive drinking destroys the fun and only spawns pain.

According to the committee and its executive director Ashton Brisolaro of Waveland, "While some drinkers can control their intake and be responsible imbibers, there are some who cannot control their intake of alcohol. These people are alcoholics, and possess a physical condition which makes it impossible for them to drink moderately and controllably. These people consistently get into trouble when they drink. For them, the only solution is to abstain altogether."

"The tragedy of the alcoholics drinking is that it not only destroys the happiness and life of the victim, but everyone surrounding him or her," continued Brisolaro.

"And what a tragedy at this precious time of the year, to allow a drinking problem to ruin the holidays, ruin the children's Christmas, and take away all of the joy and happiness the Holiday Season should bring to people."

"It is such a waste. And the double tragedy of it all is that there are so many facilities and services available in the area to help those who suffer from alcoholism. And as to recovery, there are many problem drinkers who are living proof that alcoholism is treatable, and who live happy, normal, and productive lives, without alcohol," he emphasized.

According to the committee there are public and private facilities of every type in the area. In addition, groups of Alcoholics Anonymous, Alanon, and Alateen are available.

Families who have drinking problems are able to obtain confidential information, advice, and assistance, through the Committee on Alcoholism & Drug Abuse. Assistance over the telephone is available, as well as consultation sessions, by appointment can be easily arranged.

The telephone number to call is 504-524 H-E-L-P.

For assistance from Alcoholics Anonymous, Alanon or Alateen in the Bay St. Louis, Waveland, Hancock County and Pass Christian areas, call 367-6414 or 368-1114.

In wishing the best of the Holidays to the public, Dr. Bashful said, "We hope that everyone will have a very happy, peaceful, and safe Holiday Season. Remember: if you can drink, great — do so responsibly and safely; if you can't, please don't; and if you need help, keep the help numbers hand."

HBO MOVIES

Two movies about misguided justice highlight Home Box Office in late November.

Prince of the City is a methodical examination of morals and values in the New York City police corps. Treat Williams (Hair, 1941) stars as a naive detective who decides to inform on his corrupt colleagues.

What follows is a stunning display of emotions as the issue of clandestine investigation escalates.

Directed in typical Signey Lumet style, that is a gradually forming storyline coupled with good character development resulting from intense, repetitive rehearsals and harsh street language, Prince of the City is one of Lumet's finest films.

Not a statement to be taken lightly considering Lumet has helmed such contemporary classics as Fall Safe, Network and Dog Day Afternoon.

Williams is simply astounding in this law enforcement epic which runs nearly three hours. He seems to gather momentum as the movie progresses. And the double trial ending will have you sitting on the edge of your seat.

An even better bet is the darkly disturbing Cutter's Way starring John Heard, Jeff Bridges, and Lisa Eichhorn. From the opening sequences of this crime-drama you'll know you've latched onto a classic, a point highlighted by the fact that this film was released under the United Artists' Classics logo, a subsidiary responsible for bringing Beltrix's Diva to this country.

Heard, whom you may have seen in Paul Schrader's Car People earlier this year, is awesome in his tour-de-force performance.

As Alexis, a disgruntled handicapped war veteran, Heard creates one of the most memorable characters ever immortalized on celluloid. Grasping and rasping out obscenities to anyone within earshot, Alexis stumbles drunkenly through his life until his friend, Bone, played by Bridges, tells him about a murder he thinks he witnessed.

The result is an intrinsically intriguing movie about obsession, murder and mystery.

This is a brooding film with imagery that lingers long after you've seen its final surprising sequences. Don't miss Cutter's Way, it's definitely an overlooked classic.

CHEERS

A few weeks ago I mentioned that NBC has a dynamite lineup on Thursday nights. Sandwiched between Fame, Taxi and Hill Street Blues is a bright newcomer called Cheers.

Cheers produces fresh, intelligent comedy at a Marx Brother's pace.

Starring Ted Danson as a Bostonian bar owner pitted against a beautiful college graduate student, a loud-mouthed housewife—Red Sox fan, a senile coach and Norm, the bar's biggest and best customer, Cheers, in spite of its quality, has received consistently low ratings.

NBC, always a sucker for quality television, has announced it will stick with Cheers at least through the 1982-83 season. Thanks NBC, Cheers deserves it!

Speaking of NBC...this has got to be the tough-luck network of all-time. Besides sponsoring quality television such as Hill Street Blues and Cheers and finishing third every week behind powerhouse CBS and middle-of-the-road ABC, NBC lost out on revenue during the 1981 baseball strike.

Then they endured President Carter's boycott of the 1980 Olympic Games in Moscow when they had obtained exclusive rights of broadcast for $50 million.

Then, just when it looked like they might lose the 1983 Super Bowl because of the strike, bam! it ends.

You've got to know that NBC is sighing in relief, considering commercial time is going for $425,000-per-30-seconds.

The awards are given annually in recognition of outstanding service to the organization and to the community.

Rendering of a portion Beau Maison Townhouse Condominiums now under construction at the intersection of US-90 and White Harbor Road in Long Beach.

Condominium construction underway in Long Beach

The Beau Maison Development Corp. plans to build 108 luxury condominiums on an eight-acre site overlooking the Gulf of Mexico in Long Beach.

The development will be constructed on the historic 'White Harbor' site on US-90 at White Harbor Road.

The first phase of the $15 million project will include 58 units and is scheduled for completion within 180 days, a company spokesman says.

Beau Maison Townhouse Condominiums will feature two and three bedroom units with a choice of architectural designs.

The two-bedroom, 2½-bath units will have 1,450 square feet of living area and the three-bedroom, 2½-bath units will have a total of 1,700 square feet. Both two and three-bedroom units will offer an additional 700-square-foot garage and storage area, the spokesman explains.

Both floor plans will include carpeting, a dishwasher, garbage disposal, trash compactor and central heat and air conditioning.

All units will be total electric and feature ceiling fans in the living areas and wood burning fireplaces as well as a view of the Gulf from a private balcony in each unit.

Amenities on the property will include tennis courts, two swimming pools and possibly a sauna and lounge facility.

Beau Maison will use two independent contracting firms for overall construction, the CDS Corp. and International Construction Corp., Inc., both of Mississippi.

Free USM event to feature Star Trek's Scotty—Tuesday

Veteran actor James Doohan, best known as 'Scotty' from the 'Star Trek' series and movies, will be the guest speaker at the University of Southern Mississippi's Honors forum Tuesday in Hattiesburg. His topic will be 'Star Trekking with Scotty.'

Doohan has appeared in more than 100 movie and television roles since his career began. He was Chief Engineer Montgomery Scott of the 'USS Enterprise' in the television series, 'Star Trek,' and in the two movies, 'Star Trek: The Motion Picture' and 'Star Trek II: The Wrath of Khan.'

Born in Vancouver, British Columbia, he attended high school in Sarnia, Ontario.

In 1946, Doohan won a two-year scholarship to the Neighborhood Playhouse in New York City, and went on to teach there for the next three years.

In 1953 he returned to Canada to live in Toronto for the next eight years, acting on radio, television and in films.

When he moved to Hollywood, he appeared in such television series as 'Hazel,' 'Bonanza,' 'The Virginian,' and 'The Fugitive.'

Among the motion pictures

he has appeared in are 'The Wheeler Dealers' and 'Bus Riley's Back in Town.' Doohan will begin his talk at 7 p.m. in Bennett Auditorium on the USM campus. The public is invited at no charge.

JIM ODOM FOR CIRCUIT CLERK

To all Hancock County voters: Most of you know me—but if you don't, please let me introduce myself. I am Jim Odom, former general manager of WXGR Radio. I have been a friend and neighbor to all Hancock County citizens for the past eight years. By working at WXGR I have become acquainted with many of you by helping you with benefits and such.

I sincerely ask for your help Tuesday, December 7 by asking you to go to the polls and voting Jim Odom for Circuit Clerk of Hancock County.

I have quite a bit of experience where extensive bookkeeping and budget planning is involved, considering I have worked under federal and state guidelines for the past eight years. I assure you I can handle the duties of Circuit Clerk and will do so in a manner that will allow you to say 'I'm glad I voted for Jim Odom.'

It will be impossible for me to contact each of you before December 7th, so please accept this advertisement as a sincere request for your vote.

Thank You
Jim Odom

NEW ORLEANS TOURIST COMMISSION MEMBER—Members of the New Orleans Tourist and Convention Commission, Patricia Pellegrini, left, and Jack Hyman present Jean H. Garcia, owner of Jeanne's Gift Shop in Waveland, with a membership card to the organization. Garcia is the first citizen of Hancock County to join the commission. Membership entitles her to have information about her business be included in brochures handed out at the Tourist Commission office on Conti Street in New Orleans and in other literature distributed by the commission. According to Hyman, the commission is making plans to organize a tour bus from New Orleans to Waveland, Bay St. Louis and the Gulf Coast prior to the World's Fair. (Staff photo by Brent Macey)

DUCKS UNLIMITED PRESENTS—Chris Lagarde, a member of Ducks Unlimited, and his sister, Liz Lagarde, display a few of the handcarved items and numbered prints which will be auctioned at a Ducks Unlimited banquet Thursday at 6:30 p.m. in the Jourdan River Shores Clubhouse near Kiln. Tickets for the banquet are available at Sports World in Waveland. Proceeds from the event will be used to support efforts by the national club to save the fowl's wetland habitat. (Staff photo by Brent Macey)

Firefighters snuff Bay store fire

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
An apparent electrical fire Wednesday afternoon caused minor damage at Fahey Drugs at 300 Railroad Avenue in Bay St. Louis.

Chief Andrew Lizana of the Bay Fire Department Saturday morning said a fluorescent light fixture in the store apparently malfunctioned, ignited and burned about a six-inch hole in the establishment's ceiling.

He noted the fire was reported to the department at 4:45 p.m.

Bay firefighters extinguished the small fire in a few minutes, Lizana reported.

Although the blaze created odor and smoke, the store was allowed to stay open, the fire chief said.

No one was injured in the blaze, he added.

Responding to the call were Lizana and firefighters Michael Laneaux and James Gaudet.

ment Security Commission executive director.

"Last year's October unemployment rate was 7.6 percent," Simmons notes. Commission figures show 129,700 unemployed and 935,000 working statewide out of a civilian labor force of 1,064,700.

"Initial unemployment insurance claims for the month total 25,695," Simmons states.

Parolee arrested in shoplifting

By ELLIS CUEVAS

A Parchman parolee was arrested at T.G.&Y. Family Center in Waveland late Wednesday evening, according to Waveland Police Investigator Sandra Henley.

Henley said, "Prince Fulton, 20, was arrested at T.G.&Y. by Waveland Patrolman Chuck James for allegedly shoplifting a pair of pants."

Fulton is lodged in the Hancock Jail without bond and is awaiting a preliminary hearing before Waveland City Judge Lucen Gex on Dec. 2, Henley reported.

The parolee was recently released from the Mississippi State Penitentiary in Parchman.

tober. Of that number, six counties have rates exceeding 20 percent, Simmons reveals.

Counties with the highest rates include Walthall and Winston, each 21.7 percent; Nottoway at 20.8; Atlanta at 20.7; Wayne at 20.5; and Stone at 20.1.

The lowest jobless rates are found in the counties of Issaquena at 4.9 percent, Oktibbeha at 6.5 percent and Rankin at 7.1 percent.

About 30 counties experienced an increased jobless rates in October, 51 reported decreases and Calhoun County remained the same, Simmons adds.

Billiot trial slated Monday

By BRENT MACEY

The trial of James Billiot is scheduled to begin Monday at 9:30 a.m. in the Harrison County Courthouse in Gulfport.

Billiot, 21, is accused of the triple sledgehammer murders of his mother, Mrs. Audre Croll; his stepfather, Wallace Croll; and stepmother, Cheryl Croll, at the Croll residence in Leetown on Thanksgiving Day one year ago.

Billiot is defended by Bay St. Louis court-appointed attorneys Nicholas (Mac) Haas and Yvonne Sills.

Senior Citizen Happenings

By EVE McDONALD

FISH FRY
Silver Creek Catfish House in Kiln was the site of the most fantastic free fish fry in ages!!!

K. C. Mitchell and his staff provided more than 120 senior citizens a free Thanksgiving catfish dinner.

Senior Citizens were thankful, indeed. We had a delightful ride out along the Kiln-Delisle Road so it felt like we were going on a fall picnic. It helped the appetite (which didn't need helping).

The waiters were really something! We had Hancock County Supervisors James Travira, Sam Pernicaro, and Roger Dale Ladner.

Serving in the kitchen with the Mitchell staff were Hancock Chancery Clerk E. Michael Nécasse and Superintendent of Education Terrell Randolph. Our Tax Assessor Edward D. Murtagh was busy along with ex-Bay St. Louis Councilman Clarence Ladner.

We really surprised our hosts at the amount of fish we could consume. I know our seniors don't get fresh fish often, so they really put it away!

One of the things we are most thankful for is that Mitchell told the seniors he hoped to make this event an annual feast!!!

MORE THANKS!

—To our supervisors for keeping our ceramic-macrame teacher Carol Kerr. There were cheers in the cafeteria when this good news was announced. We are still sorry to lose Emily Gardner, Monica Price, and Harry LaBlanc. We do get to see them at the center though, because they come by to volunteer, visit, or teach extra classes.

—To Honey Cream Donut Shop in Bay St. Louis for the morning donuts. This sure helps us get started. We only have to ask for a 5-cent donation for coffee to juice because of donations to this fund, and the donuts are free!

—To Waveland National Food Store which gives us day old cakes for afternoon snacks. These add a lot to the afternoon juice or punch. Most seniors live alone so they seldom buy a whole cake, so it is nice to get a slice.

—To A&P in Bay St. Louis which is so nice to give us ice for our parties.

—To Winn-Dixie in the Bay which is kind enough to slice our roasts for us when we have po-boys.

—To so many volunteers, young and old have taken an interest in our senior citizens in Hancock County! We are truly grateful that our people are not the forgotten ones we read so much about.

—To our civic groups, like the two American Legions, assist us with bingo prizes.

—To Peoples Federal Savings and Security Savings, both in Bay St. Louis, help us with our parties by donating special cakes.

—To Riemann and Fahey Funeral Homes which have been very good to us with our special events. They both donate favors, gifts and prizes.

We have been given gifts of small donations, material, supplies, clothes, etc., by many in the community.

I could never list all the good people who have participated in making our program the best in the state. We all say thanks!

ETV Brief

PASSOVER WINS

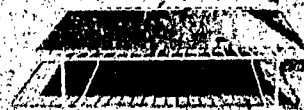

"Passover," a production of the Mississippi Center for Educational Television, has been selected to receive a CINE Golden Eagle Certificate by the Council on International Nontheatrical Events.

This award affords a production the opportunity to be entered by CINE in international competitions.

Since "Passover" premiered on the Mississippi ETV Network and nationwide on the Public Broadcasting Service (PBS) in 1981, it has won several other awards: a Silver Award from the International Film and Television Festival of New York; a Certificate of Merit from the Chicago International Film Festival; and a Blue Ribbon at the American Film Festival.

The "Passover" program logo received an Art and Design Award from the National Association of Educational Broadcasters, and the "Passover" press kit received a Chris Plaque Award from the Columbus (Ohio) International Film Festival.

Nuptial Mass unites Gibbens, Dickenson

Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church was the setting for the November 6 candlelight ceremony uniting Patricia Gex Dickenson and Michael Elmore Gibbens.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dickenson of Bay St. Louis. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Elmore Gibbens, also of Bay St. Louis.

Rev. Henry McInerney celebrated a Nuptial Mass and officiated at the 7:30 p.m. double ring ceremony. Candle arrangements of white, fugi mums, button poms, statice and greenery adorned the altar. Standing Gothic candelabra enhanced with flowers and palm greenery decorated the sanctuary. Scripture readings were rendered by Woody Handy, brother-in-law of the groom. Serving as altar boys were Scott Handy and Charlie West, cousins of the groom.

Musical selections were provided by Barbara Koeniger of New Orleans, accompanied by organist Mrs. John McKenna. Escorted down the candlelit aisle by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white silk-faced satapeau with V-neckline, fitted bodice appliqued with peau d'ange lace, long tapered sleeves of lace and basque waistline. The full flared skirt was appliqued and bordered with scalloped lace, and extended to a chapel length train. Seed pearls and irridescent adorned the bodice, sleeves, front and train. A headpiece of matching lace held a waltz length veil of illusion adorned with lace appliques.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white dendrobium orchids, fugi poms, statice and Baker's fern.

John Dickinson of Bay St. Louis attended her sister, as maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Beverly Dickinson, sister-in-law of the bride, and Becky Fitzgerald of New Orleans; Monda Dickinson Ulmer of Hattiesburg, sister of the bride; Mary Ladner of Bay St. Louis and Denise Clause of Baton Rouge, La.

The attendants were identically attired in formal gowns of beige taffeta. The tiered ruffle sleeves were accented with rust as were the fitted cummerbund waistlines. Soft ruffles framed the round necklines. They carried bouquets of ivory fugi and rust cushion poms, beige baby's breath, Baker's fern and satin ribbon loops and streamers.

Elmore Gibbens of Bay St. Louis served his son as best man.

Groomsmen were Bayne Dickinson, brother of the bride, and Craig Cook, brother-in-law of the groom, of New Orleans; Mel Ulmer of Hattiesburg, brother-in-law of the bride; Pat Gibbens and Tom Gibbens of Bay St. Louis, brothers of the groom.

Serving as ushers were Lucien M. Gex III, cousin of the bride, and David Johnson, both of Bay St. Louis.

The mother of the bride chose for the occasion a purple taffeta gown with ruffled neckline, peplum-waist, long tapered sleeves with wrist ruffle and slim skirt.

The groom's mother was attired in an orchid hue crepe gown fashioned with jewel neckline and long sleeves. Both mothers wore vanda orchid corsages.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Lucien Gex Sr., 224 N. Beach, Bay St. Louis.

Floral arrangements in the bride's chosen colors decorated throughout. The bride's table held a five tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bouquet of silk flowers.

Mary Beth Gex, cousin of the bride, attended the guest register.

For traveling, the bride chose a beige two piece suit accented with a cream blouse and matching accessories. A corsage of rust crysanthemums completed her ensemble.

The couple will reside in Bay St. Louis.

Tanner, Connaway wed in Little Rock

Carolyn Lendal Connaway and Philip Gunn Tanner were united in marriage November 20 at Westover Hills Presbyterian Church in Little Rock, Ark.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Lowry Connaway of Roland, Ark. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Van Ness Tanner of Bay St. Louis.

Laura Connaway attended the bride as maid of honor.

Charles Randolph Tanner served the groom as best man. A reception followed the ceremony at the Country Club of Little Rock.

On return from a wedding trip to Mexico, the couple will reside in Baton Rouge, La., where they will continue studies at Louisiana State University. The bride is a member of Chi Omega sorority and the groom a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

Diamondhead Gardeners tour Longue Vue in N.O.

The Diamondhead Garden Club enjoyed a field trip to Longue Vue, House and Gardens, for their November meeting.

Forty-seven members, including fifteen husbands and several guests, made the trip by bus to New Orleans.

Mrs. Peggy Satterlee, program chairman, was in charge of arrangements, and the trip went off very smoothly, due to her expertise.

Longue Vue is considered one of America's most beautiful city estates. Seven different types of gardens, fountains, pools and flowers for every season make this eight acre urban estate well worth visiting.

The club members also toured through the lovely 20th century home with its innovative and eclectic collection of furnishings.

On the way home the group stopped at Masson's

Restaurant for lunch, at which time Mrs. Marion Kollasch, president, made the following announcements:

Garden of the Month Award had been given for November to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Morris;

Award for Best Maintained Business Establishment had been given to the Aloha Realty Company;

Club members are invited to view the Bay-Waveland Garden Club's Christmas

Flower Show that will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jan Braymeyer on Friday, Dec. 3 from 2 to 5 p.m. and Saturday, Dec. 4 from 11 a.m.-3 p.m.

The Christmas party will be held on December 15 at the home of Mrs. Annie Ashman. Members are to bring a gift that is suitable to be given later to the Old Folks home or a local Nursing Home.

Submitted by Mrs. Clarence A. Evans, publicity chairman.

Pre-nuptial parties

fete Dickenson

Patricia Gex Dickinson was honored with several parties and showers prior to her November 6 marriage to Michael Gibbens.

A surprise shower at Middle South Utilities was held October 1 with hostesses being Cindy Boynes and Jocelyn Wagner.

On October 10 a kitchen shower was given by Margaret Ann Handy and Jeanne Cook.

A cocktail party was hosted by Nancy and Lucien Gex and Marjoe and Gerald Gex on October 15.

A miscellaneous shower was hosted by Mrs. Frank Schmidt and Mrs. Michael Haas on October 28.

Mrs. Alvin Ladner, Mrs. Phil Kergosien and Mrs. Horace Kergosien hosted a bridal luncheon October 30.

A rehearsal dinner on November 5 and bridesmaids' luncheon on November 6, hosted by Mrs. Mel Ulmer Jr., Joan Dickinson, and Mrs. Mel Ulmer III, preceded the wedding.

Elchos, Gibson exchange vows

Sarah Ann Gibson became the bride of Nicholas Christopher Elchos in an afternoon ceremony November 7 at First Baptist Church in Bay St. Louis.

The bride is a daughter of Grace B. Gibson of Bay St. Louis. The groom is a son of the late Dr. N. G. Elchos.

Grandparents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blackmarr Sr. and Mrs. Hazel B. Gibson, all of Gulfport.

Rev. Nathan Barber officiated at the 2 p.m. double ring ceremony.

Mrs. John McKenna of Bay St. Louis presented musical selections.

Given in marriage by her brother, Burl E. Gibson III, the bride wore a formal gown of white satin overlaid with sheer white organza and chantilly lace. A Victorian neckline of lace was enhanced with seed pearls and the sheer V-insert was edged in matching lace and pearls. The full skirt and chapel train were finished with a deep flounce edged in lace and embellished with pearls. A lace covered caplet held her fingertip veil of bridal illusion bordered in lace.

She carried a cascade bouquet of blue and white silk flowers, designed by her sister-in-law, Donna Gibson.

Rosemary E. Gibson of Gulfport attended her sister as maid of honor.

She wore a formal gown of navy blue satin fashioned with Victorian neckline and sheer net insert, designed by Grace Langenbacker, sister of the bride. She carried a nosegay of blue and white silk flowers.

Russell Caldwell of Bay St. Louis was best man.

Assisting were Mrs. Bobbye Boyd of Bay St. Louis and Mrs. Deborah Gibson, sister-in-law of the bride, who made the wedding cake.

On return from a wedding trip to Tennessee, the couple will reside in Bay St. Louis.

Out-of-town guests included Sandra Emrick of Hattiesburg and James L. Lebo of Slidell, La.

BWGC plans Christmas Flower Show Dec. 3-4

The Bay-Waveland Garden Club held its regular monthly meeting Nov. 11 at the garden center, 114 Leonhard Ave., Bay St. Louis.

Mrs. Earl Raymond led the devotion, "A Time of Thanksgiving". Mrs. John Newkirk introduced Mrs. John Booth of the Diamondhead Garden Club as guest speaker.

"Something Different in Flowers" proved to be just that as Mrs. Booth demonstrated the turning of a squash into a lovely tulip, and radishes into cute little mice.

Members welcomed this unique approach to holiday garnishes.

Mrs. R. J. Augrain reminded members to decorate a gift package for the December meeting. Not only will the gift be judged for its beauty, but will be taken to the residents of the South Mississippi Retardation Center for their enjoyment.

Mrs. Ben Hille gave a report and recorded song of the sparrows.

Mrs. John Holmes reported on the Monarch butterfly, which can currently be seen as they migrate to Mexico.

Mrs. Jan Braymeyer presented schedules for the Christmas Flower Show slated for Dec. 3-4. Any amateur flower arranger or gardener is encouraged to enter. Mrs. Fred Bookhardt is in charge of reservations.

Mrs. Clarence Evans displayed a blooming bromellads, and reported on the care of the plant.

Hostesses chairman, Mrs. Matt Hunter, introduced Mrs. Hasty Brokmeler, Mrs. S. E. Budge, Mrs. Sidney Coogan, Mrs. George Heitzmann, Mrs.

Charles Lampa, Mrs. Frances McDonald, Mrs. Dan Russell Jr., Mrs. Randolph Bourgeois, and Mrs. Charles Shambley.

Blue Jeans Gardeners name Roppolo president

The Blue Jean Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. Matie Garcia and was co-hosted by Mesdames Betty Klein, Beulah Peterson and Doris Hoppe.

A prayer and poem was read in memory of Mrs. Lois Kothman, past president. The following members will serve for a second term: president, Mrs. Anna Mae Roppolo; vice-president, Mrs. Beverly Coogan; secretary, Mrs. Pere Cabibi; and treasurer, Mrs. Betty Klein.

The plans were finalized for the Christmas luncheon to be held at the Landmark Restaurant on Thursday, Dec. 18 at noon.

The following members were winners in the club flower show. Thanksgiving decorations:

1. Mrs. Gladys Goodloe
2. Mrs. Gloria Norton
3. Mrs. Eva Shea
Christmas decorations:
1. Mrs. Mattie Garcia
2. Mrs. Eunice Murray
3. There was a tie for third place between Mrs. Shirley Cox and Mrs. Lou Hero.

An article on Norfolk Island Pine was read by Virginia Thomas and the meeting was adjourned.

Charping visits White House, attends memorial services

Mrs. Pauline Charping, National President of the National Ladies Auxiliary to Veterans of World War I, Inc. recently returned from Washington, D.C. and Alexandria, Va.

While in Washington, she was invited to a reception at the White House by President Ronald Reagan. She attended with National Commander E. L. Sprague of Fort Worth, Tex.

She also attended Memorial Services at Arlington Cemetery and along with National Commander Sprague laid a wreath at General John Pershing's grave.

The ceremony in the amphitheater boasted the largest in attendance in years with one of the reasons being the unusual participation by the Vietnam veterans. A special ceremony included the unveiling of their monument and a parade in their honor.

President Charping presided at her Mid-year Board Meeting Nov. 11-12. The meeting was well attended with the highest percentage of members in recent years. The ladies are approximately 75 to 85 years of age and have to put forth great effort to attend.

Mrs. Charping was accompanied to Washington by Mrs. Lena Dedman, National 5th Region President, and Mrs. Clara Riley, National Chief of Staff Membership Chairman. Both of these ladies are members of the National Board. While there they made a tour of Washington, including the White House and Mount Vernon or the George Washington Shrine. They were guests of Congressman Trent Lott for the White House tour.

Mrs. Myrtle Page is the Department of Mississippi President and is working to increase membership.

RITA A. ORTIZ

Ortiz, Rigsby to wed

Mr. and Mrs. Vicente Ortiz Sr. of Bay St. Louis announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Rita Ortiz, to Joseph A. Rigsby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rigsby Sr. of Marion, Ind.

The bride-elect attended Hancock North Central High School and is employed with Modular Engineering Corp.

The prospective groom attended Marion High School and is employed with U.S. Homes in Sildell, La.

The couple will exchange vows in a 7 p.m. ceremony December 3 at the home of the bride's parents. Relatives are invited to attend.

Pass VFW Post, auxiliary host dinner for veterans

Twenty-four veterans were bussed to the Cecil R. Rudock Post 5931, Pass Christian, from the VA Hospital in Gulfport for a dinner sponsored by the post and auxiliary.

They were served baked ham with all the trimmings by twelve auxiliary members and six post members. The veterans were accompanied by Melvin Pappizan, recreation therapist of the VA Hospital.

For entertainment, 'JD & Coke,' a local band, provided music.

Boudreauxs to attend VFW council meet

The Theodore S. Price Ladies Auxiliary 3253 to the Veterans of Foreign Wars held their November meeting recently at the Post Home on St. John Street in Bay St. Louis.

Special guests included Bay St. Louis Mayor Larry Bennett, Hancock County Sheriff Ronnie Peterson, Bay Police Chief Douglas Williams, Mary Underhill, pollution and nuclear waste chairman for District I; and Sr. Vice-Commander Underhill of Alfred Allaman Post 2539, Gulfport.

Harris Boudreaux, post commander and Dist. I senior vice-commander; Ulyess Oliver, post quartermaster; and Lucille Boudreaux, auxiliary president, welcomed guests.

Mrs. Underhill explained to the group actions taken by other coast mayors to fight pollution and the potential dumping of nuclear waste in Mississippi.

Sheriff Peterson spoke on drug control in Hancock County and the Neighborhood Watch Program.

Chief Williams noted that Bay St. Louis has a lower crime rate than other coast cities. He spoke to the group on possession of firearms and informed them of classes conducted in Gulfport on safe use of guns.

Joyce Bermond, National Home chairman, presented Helen Biehl with a life membership to the National Home in Michigan.

She reminded members of a bazaar held at the post home Nov. 27. Fruit baskets and cakes were delivered to the County Home for the Aged on Nov. 24. Helen Biehl furnished entertainment for the group.

The council meeting will be held in Jackson Nov. 27-28, and will be attended by Mr. and Mrs. Boudreaux. Mrs. Boudreaux is also Dept. legislative chairman. Dept. Commander Guy Thornton and Dept. President Janice White will conduct the business session.

Alfred Allaman Post 2539, Gulfport, will host a memorial service December 7 at 7 p.m. for survivors of Pearl Harbor. Post and auxiliary members are invited to attend. Clifford G. Olson Jr., national senior vice-commander-in-chief of the VFW will be guest speaker.

Legion Auxiliary plans social

American Legion Auxiliary Unit 139, Bay St. Louis began planning for Christmas at their recent meeting.

The annual Christmas party will be held on December 13 at 7 p.m. in the American Legion Club House. Each member is asked to bring a gift to exchange.

Plans were finalized to send 225 gifts to Gulfport Veterans Hospital for the gift shop. The gifts are used for the hospitalized veterans to send a gift home to their wives, children, and parents.

The Gift Shop at the Gulfport VA will be open Nov. 28-30 and Dec. 1. Anyone wishing to attend may call Evelyn Burns or Hazel Wohlschlegel.

Poppy Chairman—Rose Thompson reported on plans for Miss Poppy to ride in the Veterans Day parade. Evelyn Burns, president of the auxiliary, crowned Lisa Travica Miss Poppy and Susan Moran Little Miss Poppy.

Mrs. Thompson announced that there would be a Poppy Poster contest this year, with plans to be finalized at a later meeting. Beth Burleson gave a report on the Junior Legion Auxiliary and their plans for the future. The group meets on the third Monday of each month.

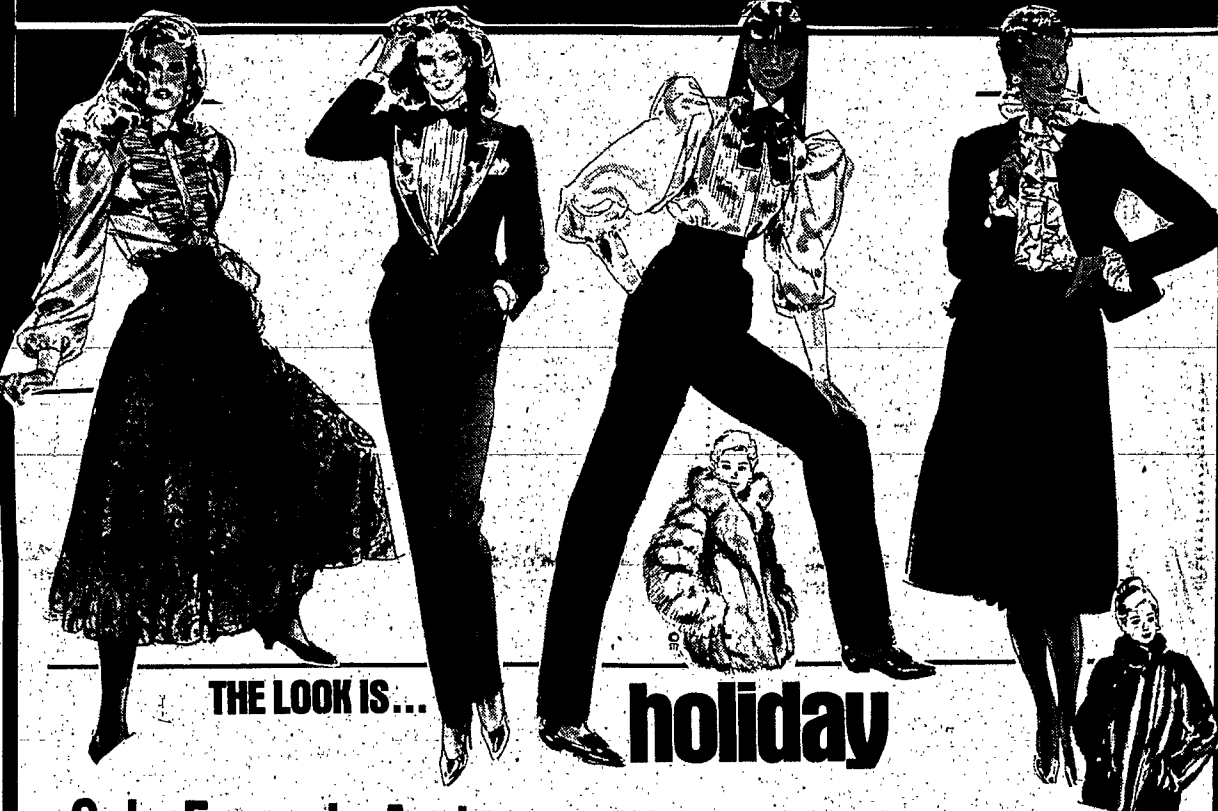

Ruby Hogan, membership chairman, reports the local auxiliary has surpassed the goal set by the State Department chairman. They are the second unit in the district to reach that goal. The theme of the membership drive is "Patriots in Petticoats".

Margaret Prevou reported on the area fall conference which was held in Waveland on Nov. 6-7. The unit members made 100 ditty bags to be given to persons who registered for the conference. Six local members attended the meetings.

A social hour followed the business session. Hostesses for the meeting were Margaret Prevou, Becky Rotundo, and Lynette Beck.

Waveland resident named library board president

George Bensabat was recently elected chairman of the Hancock County Library System Board of Trustees for 1982-83, says Prima Wusnack, library system director.

A native of New Orleans, Bensabat has resided on the Gulf Coast for more than 30 years.

He received a bachelor of arts degree from the University of Miami and a master of arts degree from Tulane University. He also holds a graduate degree in banking from Rutgers University.

"I am looking forward to chairing the library board during a year of continued growth of the library system," Bensabat says.

"Our primary goal this year will be to better inform the public and government officials of the many services the library system provides to our county. We also hope to increase our materials budget in order to make available more print and non-print resources to library users of all ages," he continues.

Bensabat is presently a trust investment officer for Hancock Bank.

Residents of Waveland for the past 15 years, he and his wife Betty, a teacher at St. Clare's School in Waveland, have five children.

Elected vice-chairman is Roger James of the Catahoula Community.

James, an educator in the Bay St. Louis School System for more than 17 years, has served as teacher, guidance counselor, assistant principal of Bay Junior High, and is presently principal of North Bay Elementary.

"Education has always been my priority and the library system will continue to work to provide the best library system a force for educational excellence in our county," he says.

James earned a bachelor of science degree from Alcorn State University and a master of science degree from Southern University in Baton Rouge, La. In addition, he has a specialist degree in elementary and secondary administration from the University of Southern Mississippi.

He and his wife Sarah, a teacher in the Bay St. Louis School System, are the parents of three children.

Also serving on the five-member board which by state law is charged with the overall governance of the library system are Jeannette Purchner, immediate past chairman; Linda L. Haas of Bay St. Louis; and L. J. Breaux of Kiln.

Military Mention

AIRMAN NORRIS

Air Force Reserve Airman Huey R. Norris, son of Louise M. Shiyon of Route 1, Pass Christian, has completed Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex.

The airman, who is remaining at Lackland for specialized training in the security police field, studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations, an Air Force spokesman says.

Completion of this training earned Norris credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

He is a 1972 graduate of Harrison Central High School in the Lyman Community.

Christmas decorations display planned at Waveland residence

The second annual Christmas Tour of Homes, sponsored by the Bay St. Louis Junior Auxiliary, will be Sunday, Dec. 5, from 2 p.m. until 5 p.m.

Houses on the tour include the homes of Mr. and Mrs. William Pittman at 226 North Beach in Bay St. Louis, Mr. and Mrs. T.D. Ashman at 107 Lafitte Drive in Waveland, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Murphree at 102 Mollere Drive in Waveland; and the Landmark Town Square Restaurant at 210 Main Street in Bay St. Louis.

The Ashman home will also feature a boutique of hand-made Christmas gift items and food. All homes will be open during the three hours, an auxiliary spokesman says. The home of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Murphree, built in 1961, was designed by architect Julius Lagarde, and blends Creole country living with formal living and dining rooms. The rooms are comfortable and cozy, and the living and dining rooms formal enough to accommodate anyone who enters.

The rooms emit their own warmth and decorations will be fashioned with children in mind. The theme of this house is "A Cozy Country Christmas," and all who tour this home will feel the comfort and warmth, the spokesman reports.

Tickets for the tour are $10 per person and are available at Ellen Kane Gifts, The Princess Shoppe, Anthony's Men's Wear, Adam's Lorraine Flower Shop and Pittman's Hallmark Shop, all in Bay St. Louis; the Golden Parrot in Waveland; Diana's Hair Artists in Diamondhead; and from any Bay St. Louis Junior Auxiliary member. Tickets will also be available at the homes the day of the tour.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

"I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." —John 10:10

By Shawn Murphy

MINISTER, BAY ST. LOUIS CHURCH OF CHRIST

SENSE OF HUMOR

"Humor is an essential part of life. Indeed, without it life would often be unbearable or at the best least 'less bearable.'"

Hitchcock once said, "A man isn't poor if he can still laugh." Lincoln stated, "With the fearful strain that is on me tonight and day, if I did not laugh I should die." And G.B. Cheever concluded, "For health and the constant enjoyment of life, give me a keen and ever present sense of humor; it is the next best thing to an abiding faith in divine providence."

Humor is often a shock absorber to life's blows and often that perfect dessert that tops off the meal. It is the salt and pepper that give life its flavor.

Beyond all this humor is a great teacher of truths. For it is those stories that are true that make us laugh the most.

This morning, relax and enjoy the lighter side of Christianity. All of the following may be found in a little paperback entitled 'A Treasury of Humor.'

TOO COSTLY

A black preacher was preaching very pointedly to his congregation one Sunday night. He said, "Now let the church walk." Deacon Jones said, "Amen, let it walk." The preacher then said, "Let the church run." Deacon Jones said, "Amen, parson, let it run." "Let the church fly," said the preacher. "Amen, brother, let it fly," said Deacon Jones. "Now, its going to take money to let it fly, brother," "Let it walk," said Deacon Jones. "Let it walk."

LIBERALITY

A hat was passed around a certain congregation for the purpose of taking up an offering for the visiting minister. Presently it was returned to him—emphatically and embarrassingly empty.

Slowly and deliberately the parson inverted the hat and shook it meaningfully. Then raising his eyes to heaven, he exclaimed fervently, "I thank Thee, dear Lord, that I got my hat back from this congregation."

GOOD AUDIENCE

A preacher visited a family where the father had just died. He asked the young son, "What were your father's last words?"

"He didn't have any," said the boy. "Mama was with him to the end."

THE POPULAR BIBLE

"Would you like to read the Bible and pray before retiring?" asked the hostess of a minister she was entertaining in her home.

Upon being assured he would be glad for the privilege, the lady said to her young son, "Bobby, go to the other room and bring that big book that mother and daddy read so much."

Son Bobby returned with a Sears, Roebuck catalog.

LONG-WINDED

A minister pleasantly surprised his congregation by delivering a ten-minute message. In concluding, he explained, "I regret to inform you, brethren, that my dog, who appears to be inordinately fond of paper, this morning ate that portion of sermon which I have not delivered. Let us pray."

After the services a visitor formed another church, approached the pastor and said, "Preacher, please let me know if that dog of yours has any pups. If it does, I want to buy one for my minister."

Ministers alcohol-drug workshop set in Jackson

The fifth annual Ministers Workshop on Alcohol-Drug Education will be at Jackson State University Dec. 2-3 to disseminate information on preventing the abuse of recreational substances.

JSU's Alcohol-Drug Studies Center and the Mississippi State Department of Mental Health's Division of Alcohol and Drug Abuse are sponsoring the workshop.

Raymond M. Richmond Jr., workshop coordinator, says, "We will discuss the dissemination of ideals and methods for alcohol and drug abuse prevention in the community from a non-judgmental and research-based perspective."

Workshop discussions will include an in-depth look at the theological perspectives on alcohol and drug treatment; pastoral counseling and substance abuse; alcohol and drug laws and the role of the minister; and alcohol and drug preventive and interventive strategies, he lists.

Among the discussion leaders are Bishop Duncan M. Gray, Episcopal Diocesan of Mississippi; Ms. Leigh G. Eley, Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics; Dr. Wallace Carr, Reformed Theological Seminary of Jackson; and Dr. Doyle P. Smith, Doctors Hospital of Jackson.

Others include the Rev. W. J. Neal, pastor of Greater Blair Street A.M.E. Zion Church in Jackson; the Rev. Joseph Dyer, pastor of Christ the King Catholic Church of Jackson; Donald Dinsmore, chaplain at the University of Mississippi Medical Center; Sandra Lewis, City of Jackson Driving Under the Influence Program; Ed Jussely, Mississippi Highway Patrol; and the Rev. Charles Knight.

pastor of St. James Baptist Church in Jackson.

Workshop activities are open to ministers, counselors, religious lay leaders and educational workers. Registration will begin at 9 a.m. and activities will conclude at noon, Dec. 3. The registration fee is $25.

Lodging will be available in the campus motel for participants desiring on-campus housing.

Ministers outside the Jackson area will be reimbursed for round-trip mileage from their home to Jackson.

For more information, contact Richmond at 968-2353 or write Ministers Workshop on Alcohol-Drug Education, Jackson State University, P. O. Box 17054, Jackson, Miss. 39217.

St. Rose de Lima Catholic Church

Parish News

Many thanks to our chairperson, Betty Lizana, and all her committee members who made the visit of St. Rose de Lima Catholic Church a memorable event. The group offered a tremendous performance, particularly the staging of 'The Wiz.'

A personal resume of each candidate who accepted nominations for parish council elections will appear on bulletin insert this week to enable Parishioners to cast votes more intelligently next week.

The present parish council will meet along with the new members on Thursday, Dec. 9, at 7 p.m. in hall behind the school.

Parishioners are invited to attend the Seventh Annual Musical Extravaganza today by St. Terese's Church in Gulfport. Event will be at the Edgewater Beach Country Club just off US-90 in Gulfport, at 4 p.m. Donations of $3 is asked.

If you haven't been able to attend an adult education group lately, you can keep yourself up to date by reading the 'Mississippi Today,' it provides factual information about the life of the church and the needs of our Christian community. If you haven't as yet paid your subscription for the 1982 of $10, it is not too late to do so. Thanks!

St. Rose's Catholic Young Organization will meet Monday at 7 p.m. The officers will meet at 6:30 p.m.

The Gospel Choir will practice Tuesday at 6 p.m.

Today's celebration opens a new liturgical year and brings a new season, Advent. It is a time of vigilance. Be prepared for His coming, we are told. Vigilance is more than passive waiting. We wait for the Lord through action in prayer and love.

MASS SCHEDULE

Sunday, 7 a.m., 9 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Daily, Monday through Saturday at 6:30 a.m.

Saturday (Vigil) 6 p.m.

Novena Devotions to Mother of Perpetual Help at beginning of Tuesday Mass.

Confessions are heard half-hour before weekend Masses and upon request.

Bay legal secretary joins association

The regular monthly meeting of the Harrison-Hancock Counties Legal Secretaries Association was recently in Gulfport.

Frances Favre, group president, presided at the meeting and a dinner buffet was served to the secretaries.

Guest speaker this month was Honorable Harris (Trip) H. Barnes III, a member of the law firm of Newton and Newton, who spoke about current tax reductions and 'hows and whys' of obtaining the best tax credits.

Ginny O'Bryant, Brenda Salloun, Karen Jean Durr, Charles and Becky Hocker, Peggy Moulds and Sharon Batty were guests at the meeting.

New members sworn in and initiated include Mary Ann Gaudin of the firm of Cook, Tucker and Sharp in Bay St. Louis, and Renea Lamb with the firm of Ladner & Enill of Gulfport.

The members voted to 'ring the bell' for the Salvation Army for one week during the Christmas holidays.

A report on the advanced National Legal Secretaries Course was given by Chairman Patsy Bishop. The course will be offered to members and non-members who have completed the basic course.

The first class will be March 16 and every Wednesday thereafter with the final class to be June 8 from 6:30 p.m. until 9 p.m. at the Pass Road Fire Station in Gulfport.

Any person eligible and interested should contact Bishop at the firm of Palmer & Gaines in Gulfport.

Christy Freeman gave a report on the sale of legal directories. The funds from these projects are used for the group's scholarship program.

The next regular meeting will be Dec. 9 in the recreation room of the Tally Arms for members and their guests.

VARIETY OF SHRUBS—An extensive variety of shrubs accent the front yard of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Russell's 631 St. Joseph St. residence in Waveland which was selected by the Bay-Waveland Garden Club as that community's November Garden of the Month. (Staff photo by Wayne Ducomb Jr.)

FALL GARDEN BLOOMS—Admiring her front yard garden filled with blooms and edged with field stones is Mrs. Harold (Bertha) Morris of 793 Ewa St. in Diamondhead. The residence was selected by the Diamondhead Garden Club as that community's November Garden of the Month. The woman said she and her husband garden as a hobby and enjoy meticulously manicuring their yard. (Staff photo by Wayne Ducomb Jr.)

HANCOCK COUNTY PORT AND HARBOR COMMISSION
BY: /s/ Ronald J. Artigue
Secretary
11-21; 11-22; 11-28-82

STATE OF MISSISSIPPI COUNTY OF HANCOCK
NOTICE OF SUBSTITUTED TRUSTEE'S SALE
I, Sam P. Cooper, Jr., having been by a written instrument dated October 14, 1982, and recorded on the 28th day of October, 1982, in book 267 at page 29, Land Trust Deed Records of Hancock County, Mississippi, substituted as Trustee in a certain deed of trust from David A. Shaw and wife, Janice Marie Shaw, to Eddy Parsons, trustee for J. C. Harrell and Hazel W. Harrell, dated August 30, 1979, and recorded September 14, 1979, in book 222, pages 444-447, of the Land Trust Deed Records of Hancock County, Mississippi, in lieu of the said Eddy Parsons, by virtue of the authority conferred upon me as such substituted trustee in said deed of trust, and default having been made in the payment of the indebtedness secured by said deed of trust, and having been requested by said J. C. Harrell and Hazel W. Harrell to foreclose the said deed of trust, will on the 28th day of November, 1982, offer for sale and sell at public outcry, for cash to the highest and best bidder therefor, at the front door of the County Courthouse in the town of Bay St. Louis, Hancock County, Mississippi, during legal hours, the following described property, to-wit: The South 1/4 of the NW 1/4 of Section 22, Township 1 South, Range 14 West, Hancock County, Mississippi.

TRUSTEE'S NOTICE OF SALE
WHEREAS on February 27, 1981, Jerry M. Sifers and wife, Jeanie Sifers executed a certain Deed of Trust to Attorney Richard Brown, as Trustee for the benefit of Landmark Finance Corporation of Mississippi, beneficiary, which Deed of Trust is of record in the office of the Chancery Clerk of Hancock County, Mississippi, in the records of Mortgages and Deeds of Trust on land in Book 233 commencing at Page 252, and WHEREAS default having been made in the terms and conditions of said Deed of Trust and the entire outstanding debt secured thereby having been declared to be due and payable in accordance with the terms and conditions on said Deed of Trust and the legal owners and holders of said indebtedness and Deed of Trust having requested the undersigned Trustee to execute the Trust and sell said land and property in accordance with the terms and conditions of said Deed of Trust and for the purpose of raising the same due thereunder, together with Attorney's fees, Trustee's fees, and the expenses of the sale,
THE FORECLOSURE—I, Richard B. Brown, Jr., being the same person as Attorney Richard Brown mentioned above, will on the 28th day of November, 1982 offer for sale at public outcry and sell within legal hours, being between the hours of 11:00 A.M. and 4:00 P.M., at the main front door of the County Courthouse of Hancock County, Mississippi, at Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, to the highest bidder for cash, the following described property situated in Hancock County, Mississippi, together with all improvements thereon, and being more particularly described as follows: The NW 1/4 of SW 1/4 of NW 1/4, Section 25, Township 5 South, Range 13 West, Hancock County, Mississippi containing 18 acres.
